

NJBIZ Announces New Jersey's 2018 Best 50 Women in Business

Amy Sara Cores has been named one of New Jersey's 2018 Best 50 Women in Business. The award program, produced by NJBIZ, New Jersey's premier business news publication, is presented by Wells Fargo and sponsored by WithumSmith+Brown, PC.

The Best 50 Women in Business awards program honors New Jersey's successful and influential women in business who have been making headlines in their field. To qualify, a nominee had to meet the selection criteria of being a resident and/or employed in New Jersey and hold a senior management-level position with significant authority in decision making.

An independent panel of judges selected the top fifty winners based on dedication to their careers, leadership, vision, community service, and mentoring. The 2019 judges were:

Jane Kurek, Executive Director at The Provident Bank Foundation

Sister Roseann Mazzeo, Executive Director at WomenRising, Inc.

Deanna Sperling, President and Chief Executive Officer at Barnabas Health Behavioral Health Center

Judith Sheft, Associate Vice President of Technology & Enterprise Development at New Jersey Innovation Institute @ NJIT

Jayne O'Connor, Vice President at Taft Communications

Meg Columbia-Walsh, CEO at Wylei Inc., and

NJBIZ and the program sponsors honored this year's winners during an awards reception. Almost 600 people came to the ceremony on Monday, March 19, 2018 at The Palace at Somerset Park in Somerset, NJ. The honorees were also highlighted in a special supplement to NJBIZ.
